

AWSB Recipient of United Way Award

The Water Works has been named as the recipient of the prestigious Cliff Colyer, Jr. Excellence in Service Award. This very special award marks the contributions you have made not only in terms of monetary gifts but the many special volunteer services our employees and the organization have made to United Way.

It is recognition of the commitment you have made not only to provide water and waste water services to our community but for having taken a leadership role in making our entire community and its quality of life better. It demonstrates once again that the employees along with excellent support and encouragement from the Board of Directors go beyond just the essentials of doing their job and on to being stewards of the community.

This award is just one more indication of the excellence of our staff. I am extremely proud of each of you who have contributed, volunteered and cared enough to take extraordinary measures to make sure our city, county and state thrive and that everyone in our hometowns has access to essential services. You have once again shown both your heart and your professionalism.

By any measure the Anniston Water Works is a leader in our profession and in our community. Thanks for your efforts on behalf of Untied Way.
